Winklebury Federation World Book Day and Book Fair

Our theme this year is: Fantastic Authors!

This year World Book Day is on Thursday 7th March and each year group will be looking at a fantastic author and spending the day on themed activities relating to their chosen author. The children will also partake in a quiz as to which favourite author belongs to which teacher. Children are invited to come to school as any character they love.

We are also holding a book fair from Wednesday 6th March to Monday 11th March inclusive for both schools with books suitable for Infant and Junior aged children. The fair will be held in the Infant school library from 3pm each day. Please come along and have a look – your child can come with you but please collect them as usual at the end of the school day at 3pm and then make your way to the book fair.

Junior aged children are welcome to attend the book fair without an adult but:

- Money must be sent to school with your child in a named envelope marked Bookfair, which your child must hand to their class teacher for safe keeping.
- We will assume, if your child brings money for a book to school, that he/she has your permission for choosing what he/she buys – the book fair sells stationery as well as books so your child may choose to buy those. We will advise your child about a book suitable for an age-range but the final decision will be your child's. If you are uncertain your child will make a sensible choice, please come along with him/her!
- Each child will receive £1 world book day token on Monday 4th March, these may be used against the purchase of any book at the fair. Alternatively they may be used to obtain a free World book day book from participating bookstores. Please see <https://www.worldbookday.com/books/> for details.

Our fabulous catering team, Pabulum will be serving up a book themed lunch on World Book Day - more information to follow on this.

We look forward to welcoming you to our book fair and seeing everyone's favourite book characters on World Book Day.

Yours sincerely
